P. D. GAIHA, Under Secy.

New Delhi, the 6th August 1963

S.O. 2117.—In pursuance of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (14 of 1947), the Central Government hereby publishes the following award of the Industrial Tribunal, Hyderabad, in the industrial dispute between the employers in relation to the Srinivasakaruppan Mica Mine, Thoorpupondla and their workmen, which was received by the Central Government on 3rd August, 1963.

BEFORE THE HON'BLE INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, ANDHRA PRADESH, HYDERABAD.

PRESENT:

Dr. Mir Siadat Ali Khan, M.A., L.L.B., Fazel (Osm), B.C.L. (Oxon), D. Phill (Oxon), Bar-at-Law, Licols Inn. (London), Chairman, Industrial Tribunal, Andhra Pradesh, Hyderabad.

INDUSTRIAL DISPUTE No. 4 of 1963.

BETWEEN:

Workmen of M/s. Sreenivasa Karuppan Mica Mine, Thoorpupondla, Rapur Taluk, Nellore District.

Versus

Employers of M/s. Sreenivasa Karuppan Mica Mine, Thoorpupondla, Rapur Taluk, Nellore District.

APPEARANCES:

Messrs. C. C. Subbayya and P. C. Reddy for workmen, and Messrs. Mallikarjuna Rao, advocate, and Mr. K. Ayyanna Naidu, for employers.

AWARD

The industrial dispute between the employers of Srinivasakaruppan Mica Mine, Thoorupupondla, and their workmen was referred to me for adjudication by the Government of India, Ministry of Labour and Employment order No. 20/20/62-LR II, dated 16th January, 1963. The issue framed by the Government is:

“Whether the dismissal of Sarvashri Kanupuru Polaiah and Pottella Brahmaiah by the Srinivasakaruppan Mica Mine, Thoorupupondla, was justified and if not, to what relief they are entitled?”

2. The dispute was registered here as Industrial dispute No. 4 of 1963. The parties were directed to file their respective statements of claims and counter and they did not comply before 2nd March, 1963. They were then directed to appear for the hearing with their witnesses, but, the Andhra Pradesh Mica Workers' Union, Gudur, pleaded that the Union was too poor to afford the expenses of coming over to Hyderabad and that I should come over to hear the dispute. In the exigencies of work here, I could do this only on 15th June, 1963. At the hearing both the parties adduced four witnesses each and filed several documents. On behalf of the employer the record of the domestic enquiry was also filed. I urged a compromise on the parties in view of the national emergency, but the employer's representative promised to consult the owner and let me know as early as possible. Though two weeks have passed no communication has been received from them.

3. It should be noted that in the claims statement as well as in counter the allegation covers Acchi China Pullaiah that he was the man who beat Sheik Hussain, but, in the order of reference no mention of him is made. A letter no. nil dated 2nd January, 1963, is filed by the Union to the effect that the Ministry of Labour and Employment has been moved by it for including his name, but, so far I have received no order regarding his inclusion or otherwise. It is obvious, therefore, that any award will cover only the two workmen specified in the schedule to the order of reference.

4. The gist of the claims statement of the workmen is that the alleged beating of Sheik Hussain by Acchi China Pullaiah at the house of Acchi China Pullaiah and next day within the mine area, at the shed or central room, is a fabrication. These occurrences did not take place. The two workers Pottella Brahmaiah and Kanupuru Polayya were the active members of the Union and they have agitated over several demands like lay off compensation, bonus, grain allowance and reinstatement of certain workers during the course of the years. They have become bete noir to the manager and the Agent and the employer and, with the help of their ‘YES’ man Sheik Hussain, the charges were made up and a mock enquiry was held. Of course, the employer rejects these allegations and in his counter he has denied any improper motives and victimisation or undue labour practice. He has stated that the occurrences did take place; a proper enquiry was held in which the witnesses of the employer were examined in the presence of the workmen and they were allowed to cross-examine them. Similarly, the workmen were allowed to produce the witnesses in defence who were cross-examined by the manager as the representative of the employer.

5. As this was a reference under section 10(1) of the Industrial Disputes Act, XIV of 1947, the employer adduced four witnesses in the enquiry before me and I examined them. The Supreme Court also in the Bharat Sugar Mills Case, 1961, (II) LLJ, 644, at page 649, column 1, has laid down that ‘for a long time now it has been settled law that, in a case of an adjudication arising out of a dismissal of a workman by the management, evidence can be adduced before the industrial tribunal’. On the same page, it is laid down further that the Tribunal should form his opinion not only on the evidence recorded by him, but, also on the record of the domestic enquiry filed by the employer. I have accordingly carefully scrutinised the entire record.

6. In my opinion, the domestic enquiry was in name only. The minimum requirements of natural justice in this regard is that a charge-sheet must be framed in which the allegation of misconduct against the workman must be stated. The employer framed such charge-sheets Ex. M8 and Ex. M10. But, natural justice requires further that, after receiving the reply of the workmen charge-sheeted an enquiry should be held in the presence of the workmen and the workmen should be given an opportunity to cross-examine the employer's witnesses. After this is over, the workmen should be given an opportunity to produce defence witnesses, if any and they should be recorded. I am afraid, none of these things were done in this so called domestic enquiry. Ex. M3 to M7 are the statements respectively of the witnesses Abdul Rasool, Adam Safi, Abdur Razak, Sundarayya and Khader Saheb. They were recorded before the domestic enquiry was held on 8th August, 1962. They may be regarded as statements to satisfy the Manager that there was a prima facie case and, therefore, a domestic enquiry was indicated. Hence, no objection can be taken to these statements. But, there are so many other things: Ex. M15 to M19 are the statements of the above-mentioned live witnesses as recorded in the domestic enquiry held on 8th August, 1962. Similarly, Ex. M14 is the statement of the complainant Sheikh Hussain recorded in the domestic enquiry. Now, not only the complainant Sheikh Hussain on page 2 of his deposition but, the employers witness MW4 (at page 3 of his deposition) have stated that when their statements Exhibits M14 and M3 were recorded, neither Pottella Brahmaiah, nor, Kanupuru Polayya, or, Acchi China Pullaiah were present, nor, was anybody else present except the manager, the scribe Burhan Sahib and they themselves. MW4 has stated on page 3 of his deposition that as a matter of fact these statements were not prepared on the day of domestic enquiry. They were prepared one day before the enquiry at 9-30 A.M. and that at that time also nobody was present except he himself and the Manager. He adds further that, at the domestic enquiry at which the workmen were present, these statements were produced to the Jury by the manager and they were filed. There is much discrepancy in the statements of these two witnesses on the number of the members of Jury. According to them they were 10, 3 or 5. It was said that the statements were recorded by all the 10 members of the jury; that every member of the jury put questions to the witnesses. No evidence of this can be seen from the statements themselves and the witness MW3 have gone back on his statement and said that, the number of jury were 3 only and only three statements were recorded. He said at first that, he had questioned all the witnesses and then said that, he examined only 3 witnesses. He said again that only three statements were prepared and the remaining 8 statements were copies of the three statements. In this way, no useful purpose will be served to point out further discrepancies. It is quite obvious from these depositions that the domestic enquiry was not a full-dress enquiry and the employer's witnesses were not examined in the presence of the workmen concerned and the statements were "prepared" one day before. Pottella Brahmaiah and Kanupuru Polayya have stated in their depositions before me even though they went to the domestic enquiry but, besides the manager, nobody else was present and no statement was recorded in their presence.

6.1. The above will show that the requirement of the natural justice that, the witnesses of the employer regarding the charges framed should be examined in the presence of the workmen was not complied with. Pottella Brahmaiah on page 3 of his deposition has stated in very clear words that on the date of the enquiry, neither the employer's witnesses were cross-examined by the workers as the said witnesses were not present, nor the defence witnesses were recorded in his presence and Kanupuru Polayya has on page 1 of his deposition stated that he does not know when the statements of the employer's five witnesses were recorded and that they were not recorded before the workmen.

7. I am satisfied that the domestic enquiry held by the employer was not proper. The further question is, whether from the depositions recorded by me, the charges framed are established. Regarding this the employer has conceded that he is not concerned with the occurrence on 22nd June, 1962, in which Sheikh Hussain was beaten by Acchi China Pullaiah as it occurred outside the factory leased area. But, that as the occurrence on 23rd June, 1962, occurred in the leased mine area he cannot tolerate the indiscipline and, therefore, he charge-sheeted the workmen. In this connection, the evidence of Sheikh Hussain the complainant is important. Even though in the examination-in-chief he has deposed in favour of employer, but, in cross-examination on page 2 of his deposition he stated unequivocally that, there was only one occurrence and that was at the house of Acchi China Pullaiah, outside the leased area of the mine, and that no occurrence took place at the shed within the mine area. In the re-examination in answer to the question 'where were you beaten on the second day' the answer was 'at Mines'. This will show that when he was promoted by the question he remembered the answer he has to give and replied that he was beaten at the Mines. But, in the very next sentence he reiterated suo motto that 'I have made one complaint and when the second time I was beaten at the shed I did not made any complaint'. 'I have not made the complaint about the beating at the central room or shed'. In spite of this the employer has filed Ex. M2 as his complaint regarding the assault at the shed.

8. Regarding the actual assaults on Sheik Hussain, the witnesses produced before me both MW3 and MW4 have not stated a word. They stated only that they have made their statements in the domestic enquiry and identify their signatures on them. This will show that they did not depose before me that they witnessed the assault on Sheik Hussain in the mine area or have been at the Acchi China Pullalah's house at the time of assault. The statements they made in the domestic enquiry were not recorded in the presence of the workmen, as I have stated already at length in the preceding paragraphs, and for that reason they have no evidential value. I am, therefore, forced to draw the conclusion that the occurrences have not been proved.

8.1. There are cases in which it has been held by Tribunals or Labour Courts that, even an occurrence outside the factory premises entitles the employer to proceed against the workmen. There are cases against this view also. But, even if I follow the first line of cases it is evident that as accusation of beating at the house of Acchi China Pullalah was not deposed to before me by the eye-witnesses adduced that they saw it, but, as they only stated that their statements in the domestic enquiry were made by them and their statements in the domestic enquiry were not recorded in the presence of the workmen I can only hold that that occurrence also was not proved.

8.2. There are cases in which it was held that in the matter of reinstatement the power of the Tribunal is limited, even when the matter has been referred under section 10(A) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. There are contrary cases to this view also holding that when the case of reinstatement is referred under section 10(1), the entire matter is at large and the Tribunal can form his opinion on the record. Even following the first line of cases the Tribunal is empowered to look whether there has been a proper and fair domestic enquiry held. I have detailed above how I cannot hold that the domestic enquiry held here was either proper or fair. Hence, under both line of cases, the conclusion is the same that the charges alleged against the two workmen Pottella Brahmaiah and Kanupuru Polayya are not proved.

8.3. It is a very serious matter for any Tribunal to hold that victimisation or unfair labour practice on the part of the employer is established. However, in this case, from the very beginning the workmen were stating before the Conciliation officer and also before me in the claims statement that in the past, there were several cases in which these two workmen being the active union workers were in the forefront in putting up the claims of the workmen regarding lay off compensation, bonus, grain allowance, and reinstatement of certain workmen. It does not necessarily follow from this that, the employer had any enmity against them. But, in this case a notice Ex. W1 dated 1st June, 1962, was issued to Pottella Brahmaiah that he is taking sides of other workmen and he should desist from such activity. And again in the order of dismissal much is said about the conduct of these workmen in the past and a perusal of the order of dismissal will show that in dismissing the workmen their union activities also have a part. I say with restraint that it follows from the record that there was some unfair labour practice and mala fides on the part of the employer in dismissing these two workmen. The way in which the domestic enquiry was held also indicates the same.

9. When a dismissal cannot be upheld, the proper order is of reinstatement. I, therefore, direct reinstatement of the workmen Sarvashri Pottella Brahmaiah and Kanupuru Polayya, from the date of their suspension on 1st July, 1962, till their reinstatement with 3/4th back wages and continuity of service. I hope that the employer will not feel sour over this as the relation between the Manager and the workmen were strained and happily the employer has transferred the Manager because of his efficient work to some other place. When a new manager will come it is to be hoped that the relation will improve. I also put on record that the Manager at the end of his deposition, before me, has deposed that in the course of the service of these two workmen extending to about 7 years there was no black remark and that there is no mention of any misconduct in their service records.

Report accordingly to the Government this 9th day of July, 1963.

“Whether the management of Sreenivasakaruppan Mica Mines, Thoorupupondla, was justified in terminating the services of Sri Sheik Abdulla with effect from 28th August, 1962, and if not, to what relief the workman is entitled?”

2 The dispute was registered here as industrial dispute No. 6 of 1963. The parties were directed to file their statements of claims and counter. The workmen filed the claims statement on 28th February, 1963 and the employer filed their counter on 15th March, 1963. Thereafter, the workers prayed for adjournments on the plea that they are unable to come to Hyderabad as the Union is poor. I could go to Tirupathi on 15th June, 1963 and heard the parties from that date.

3 The Union's case is this: that Sheik Abdulla wanted one day leave on 5th May, 1962, as he was sick and could not attend to his work as muck mazdoor. The manager refused him the leave as he had formed a bad opinion about him for his Union activities. Abdulla was treated by his family doctor at Gudur. He returned to his work on 7th May, 1962. The employer wanted him to explain why he refused to work and absented himself without leave. He explained that he was too sick to work and attached a certificate from a registered medical practitioner, Dr. Shankaram, certifying that he was suffering from cold and cough. This explanation was not believed in and further notices were issued to him to give true explanation. He was refused work also. Conciliation took place where in the Central Conciliation Officer directed the employer to take him back to work and give him continuity of service and back wages from 23rd July, 1962. The employer complied, but, on 8th August, 1962, he again chargesheeted Abdulla for his absence on 5th May, 1962 and for two more misconducts, viz., that (2) he instigated P. Brahmaiah and K. Dolayya to beat Sheik Hussain, a worker, and, (3) he spoke in a manner which was derogatory to the management. He was suspended and was given a notice that an enquiry will be held. He did not attend the enquiry as he was not doing well. The charges are false and the manager has victimised him for his Union activities. He may, therefore, be reinstated with back wages.

4 As against this, the employer's stand as summarised in the counter and also in the order of dismissal Ex. M19 is as follows. Sheik Abdulla was refused one day casual leave on 5th May, 1962, as the manager had granted casual leave to 3 workers just before Sheik Abdulla approached the manager on the morning of 5th May, 1962, at 8 a.m. He was directed to go to duty. He disobeyed and went away without attending to work. 5th May, 1962 was a Saturday. He appeared on Monday the 7th May, 1962. The manager, having received reports from the workers that Sheik Abdulla had pre-planned to go to Gudur to erect a pendal for the marriage of the daughter of Secretary of the Union, Sri C. C. Subbaiah, asked him to explain the true reason for which he absented himself. His explanation was that he was suffering from cold and cough and a Doctor certificate was also attached. But, relying on the above-mentioned reports and also on the fact that if Sheik Abdulla was really sick he could not have gone to Gudur which was 8 miles away and he would have taken medicine in Saidapuram Hospital which was only 3 miles away, the Manager called upon Abdulla to give true explanation. But, he did not comply. Thereupon conciliation took place in which it was held that the manager's refusal to give the workmen work without suspending him was not proper. The employer, therefore, reinstated and paid him back wages. But, as in the conciliation, the right of the employer to proceed against Sheik Abdulla for absents without leave on 5th May, 1962 was reserved and Sheik Abdulla was puffed up with the success in the conciliation and, therefore, had instigated P. Brahmaiah and K. Polayya to beat Sheik Hussain and also spoken foully about the management he was charge-sheeted for these two misconducts also. He replied to the charges denying them. Thereafter an enquiry was held on 20th August, 1962 and opportunity was given to the workman to attend it. Even though the employer's witnesses and the jury consisting of three persons were present, neither Abdulla, nor, his witnesses came and the proceedings were completed in his absence. From the evidence recorded the charges were considered to be proved. Two notices to show cause against dismissal were issued. But, Sheik Abdulla did not reply to any of them, he was, therefore, dismissed. The dismissal is justified as Sheik Abdulla has disobeyed the lawful order and have also violated discipline. There was no bad motive or victimisation on the part of the employer. His dismissal, therefore, should be maintained as otherwise it will be difficult to control.

5. At the hearing before me as is this was a reference under section 10(1) of the Industrial Disputes Act, XIV of 1947, the employer adduced one witness and the workmen two. The Supreme Court in Bharat Sugar Mills Case, 1961 II LLJ, 644, at page 649, has held that:

"that for a long time now it has been settled law that in a case of an adjudication arising out of a dismissal of a workman by the management evidence can be adduced before the Industrial Tribunal."

Hence, I allowed the evidence that was adduced before me. It appears from the same case and the same page that the record of the domestic enquiry filed by the employer can also be considered. I have, therefore, proposed to carefully scrutinise the entire record.

5.1. In scrutinising the record, I will keep in view the pronouncement of the supreme court in the cases of G. Meckinzie V. its workmen, 1959. I LLJ 235; The Indian Iron & Steel Co., 1958, I LLJ 260; and the Balipura Tea Estate Case, 1959, II LLJ 245. In all these cases it has been held as follows:

"Undoubtedly the management of a concern has power to direct its own internal administration and discipline; but the power is not unlimited and when a dispute arises, industrial tribunals have been given the power to see whether the termination of service of a workman is justified and to give appropriate relief. In cases of dismissal on misconduct, the tribunal does not, however, act as a Court of appeal and substitute its own judgment for that of the management. It will interfere

- (i) when there is want of good faith.
- (ii) when there is victimisation or unfair labour practice,
- (iii) when the management has been guilty of a basic error or violation of a principle of natural justice, and.
- (iv) when on the materials the finding is completely baseless or perverse"

As the case before me now is that of "adjudication arising out of a dismissal of a workman", I could, according to Bharat Sugar Mills Case referred to above, record evidence and consider it with the evidence recorded in the domestic enquiry.* In so considering the record I will remember the rider laid down in the other 3 Supreme Court cases that I should not act as a Court of appeal and substitute my own judgment for that of the management. But, obviously, I will have to consider the record to find out, e.g., whether there is any contravention of the principles of natural justice, or victimisation. If I find any of these things I will "interfere". I will, therefore, in the first instance confine myself to an examination of the record of the domestic enquiry to find out whether there is any contravention of the principles of natural justice, mala fides, or, victimisation.

6. After careful consideration, I am of the opinion that the domestic enquiry purported to be held by the management was against the well-recognised principles of natural justice and also was not free from mala fides. I hold this after careful consideration and with restraint, as it is a very serious matter for any Industrial Tribunal to impute motives to the employer. Why I say will appear from what follows:

6.1. The record shows that Sheik Abdulla had a service of 6 years. It was a service without a blemish. Not even a warning was issued to him in all these 6 years. He had applied for a day's casual leave. According to his deposition the manager did not like his application for one day's leave and threw it away. Hence, he sent it from Gudur by post attaching to it the medical certificate of a registered medical practitioner who was also his family doctor. This was not believed in and repeatedly Abdulla was asked to give true explanation. The Manager was agitated by the fact that the workman did not take medicine from the M.B.B.S. doctor in Saidapuram forgetting his plea that, Gudur was a village which was nearer by bus and which was 5 miles from Thoorupupondla where the mine is situate and, Saidapuram was three miles by track and he was not in a position to walk and, therefore, he went to Gudur by bus. In Ex. M5 the manager even stated to the worker that his one day's sick leave was refused as he had not applied it 14 days before. No man can apply for sick leave of a day 14 days in advance! The manager stated in so many notices and in his deposition before me that he had granted leave to three workers just before Abdulla applied for leave. This was challenged and he was asked to file the sick-leave register for 5th May, 1962. The manager stated in his deposition that the sick leave register of 5th May, 1962, will not be produced in the proceedings before me. This is important as the contention of the manager is that because of his sanctioning that day leave to 3 persons the work would have suffered if Abdulla's leave was also sanctioned. If that was so, the sick leave register should have been produced to show that leave to 3 workmen was given, especially as it was requisitioned by the workmen. The presumption from not producing the register would be that sick leave to three persons was not granted and the work would not have suffered if Abdulla's leave was granted. It follows that the leave was not granted from ulterior motives.

6.2. The mala fides can also be seen from the following facts. The entire record of the domestic enquiry will show that the manager, Sri Ayyanna Naidu, was the prosecutor; it was he who received the reports from the workmen, Achuta Venkatayya, Adam Safi, M. Gangi Reddy and Jani Basha (Exs. M. 10, 11, 12 and 17), regarding the allegation that in the evening of 4th May, 1962, Sheik Abdulla pre-planned to go to the Union Secretary's daughter's marriage. Similarly, it was he who received reports from Madala Ramanayya, Jani Basha and Abdul Rasool, Ex. M. 15/1, 17/1, and 16/1, to the effect that Abdulla abused the management. It was he who thereupon issued the notice Ex. M. 5 dated 12th May, 1962, to show cause why disciplinary action regarding these misconducts should not be taken against him; and, it was he who issued the notice Ex. M. 16, that he was suspended and an enquiry will be held on 20th August, 1962, to which Abdulla should attend. These will show that quite evidently he was the prosecutor. It is a principle of natural justice that the prosecutor should not be the judge. This principle was also contravened because the domestic enquiry was held by him alone. In the domestic enquiry it was he who showed to the seven witnesses, heard in the said enquiry the reports they had given him in July, 1962 and got their verification that the reports were correct. This was about the only proceeding in the domestic enquiry. This clearly shows that he was the judge in contravention of the principle of natural justice that the prosecutor should not be the judge and conducted the proceedings cursorily. It may also be noted that there is no record to show that the employer, Sri Mehboob Khan Soudagar, or, any of his authorised representative, had appointed Sri Ayyanna Naidu, the manager, to conduct the domestic enquiry. Evidently, therefore, not only he was a prosecutor-cum-judge, but, an unauthorised judge at that. It may also be noted that it was the manager who had refused leave to Sheik Abdulla on 5th May, 1962. This fact was within his personal knowledge and natural justice requires that, as he was the prosecutor he should not have been the judge and, the employer should have appointed another person to conduct the enquiry. Natural justice also requires that in that enquiry before another duly authorised enquiring officer, the manager should have made his statement that on 5th May, 1962, he refused leave to Abdulla on the ground that he had already granted leave to three persons just before Abdulla applying for it; and that he could not grant leave to Abdulla, as, otherwise, he feared that the work will suffer. No new person was appointed and the fact of refusing leave on the grounds on which

It was refused was not proved in accordance with the principles of natural justice. In these respects also, the principle of natural justice was contravened, as no fresh inquiry officer was appointed and the best evidence on the refusal of leave was not produced. Lastly, the record also shows that the manager was not only the prosecutor and the enquiring officer, but, also the person who wrote the dismissal order Ex. M. 19. This fact is clear from the cross-examination of the manager in the proceedings before me. The learned advocate for Sheik Abdulla, Sri P. C. Reddy, asked him in cross-examination as to who wrote Abdulla's dismissal order and the manager, as MW1, admitted that he wrote it in telugu and forwarded it to the approval of the employer Sri Mehboob Khan Sowdagar; the telugu order was translated in English there and signed by the employer.

6.3. The above will show that so many principles of natural justice have been contravened. The question arises why was it so. It is the allegation of the workmen that for the last 10 years there have been several disputes between the employer and the workmen, and in all these disputes Abdulla, P. Brahmaiah and K. Polayya took active part and the employer has taken action against all three of them with an ulterior motive. WW2 has devoted his deposition to the enumeration of these various disputes ranging over the last 10 years. He has deposed that they were disputes over arrears of wages and they were not paid until after a strike. Attendance bonus for 4 or 5 years was not paid. Even the leave with wages under the Mines Act was not given. Similarly, the G.O.Ms. of 1960 on minimum wages was not implemented unless and until all the above-mentioned three matters were taken to the Central Conciliation Officer. He added that even the grain allowance awarded by the Labour Appellate Tribunal compromise award of 1952 also came in dispute. He was asked in cross-examination by the learned advocate for the employer Sri Mallikarjunarao whether the grain allowance was not a general issue taken by the Employer's Federation. He replied that the appellate award was terminated and except this employer and three other employers all the employers have paid the grain allowance till the date of termination. In this way, he has enumerated so many other disputes between the employer and the workmen during the last 10 years. He has stressed also that the employer had victimised Sheik Nanne, Khasim and Lakshmayya also. As already stated it is his stand that because of this dispute and because of Sheik Abdulla taking active part in the union he has been victimised. Sheik Abdulla was asked in cross-examination by the learned advocate of the employer that during the six years of his service he was not victimised so far and his reply to this is in affirmative. Even so, I feel that it does not absolve the employer from the imputation that after waiting for these years he now took action against him. It appears to me that the allegation of victimisation or taking action with ulterior motive is borne out by the record of the case: The domestic enquiry was conducted with contravention of so many principles of natural justice. The refusal to file the leave register for the 5th May, 1962 to prove that leave to Abdulla was refused as leave to other three persons was sanctioned, also is a pointer in the same direction. The omission on the part of the employer to appoint some other officer to enquire into the allegation of misconduct against Abdulla in view of the fact that the manager was the prosecutor indicates the same thing.

6.4. So far in the first instance, I have examined the record to find out contravention of principles of natural justice and bad faith on the part of the employer's representatives. I have not, in the second place, scrutinised the record to find out whether the 3 misconducts alleged are proved and if proved whether there is justification for them. As there appears to be authority for my doing this I proceed to do it below.

7. The above will show that there was in fact no proper domestic enquiry held and the domestic enquiry that was held was highly defective. In such circumstances, the Supreme Court in Bharat Sugar Mills Case referred to above has held as follows:

"the mere fact that no enquiry has been held or that the enquiry has not been properly conducted cannot absolve the Tribunal from its duty to decide whether the case that the workman have been guilty of the alleged misconduct have been made out and the proper way for performing this duty whether there has not been a proper enquiry by the employer is for the Tribunal to take evidence of both sides in respect of the misconduct." (1961, II LLJ, 644, at page 646, column-2).

As by this latest pronouncement of the Supreme Court, I am not absolved of my duty to decide whether the misconducts charged are proved I proceed to decide the same. While doing so I will consider the record of the domestic enquiry also.

7.1. As far as the statements of witnesses recorded about the two misconducts, viz., that Abdulla instigated P. Brahmaiah and K. Polayya to beat Sheik Hussain and that he abused the management foully, I note that they suffer from the general defect that their statements made in July, 1962 were simply verified in the enquiry on 20th August, 1962, before the same manager who was also the prosecutor. Generally, in domestic enquiry no jury is appointed. But, here, it is the allegation of the employer that a jury of three persons was appointed. The record does not show that the jury held the workman Abdulla guilty of the misconduct. Their verdict is not recorded. In my opinion, therefore, for the above reasons the statements have no evidential value. In the enquiry before me, the employer had adduced only one witness and he was the manager himself MW1. Admittedly he has no personal knowledge of Abdulla instigating two workmen P. Brahmaiah and K. Polayya to beat Sheik Hussain or his speaking abusively about the management. Hence, these two misconducts are not proved by any evidence led before me. I hold accordingly. Moreover, there is one more fact to disprove the misconduct No. 2. It is this: The learned advocate for the workmen asked MW1 the manager in cross-examination that in the other industrial dispute No. 4 of 1963, he has chargesheeted Acchi China Pullaiah for inciting P. Brahmaiah and K. Polayya to assault Sheik Hussain and has not chargesheeted Abdulla for the same and the manager replied in the affirmative. It is, therefore, evident that in this industrial dispute No. 6 of 1963 the employer's stand is different. Here, he has stated that Sheik Abdulla instigated P. Brahmaiah and K. Polayya to beat Sheik Hussain. Obviously, such contrary statements cannot be believed. Again, a perusal of the record of the domestic enquiry will show that no witness had stated to the manager that Sheik Abdulla had instigated P. Brahmaiah and K. Polayya to beat Sheik Hussain. Thus, obviously, this charge was framed by the manager himself without anybody stating it to him. The misconduct No. 2 is, therefore, not proved from these circumstances also.

7.2. Regarding the charge of absence without leave on 5th May 1962 the only questions are whether Abdulla was justified in absenting himself from duty after the manager had refused him leave and whether the manager was justified in refusing him casual leave for a day even though he had pleaded that he was suffering from cold and cough. As far as the justification for the manager's refusal is concerned I have already considered it in paragraph 6 and its sub-paragraphs above. There, I have held that the refusal was from ulterior motives and not bona fide. To this, I may add a thing or two: The manager stated in the notice Ex. M6 that he did not believe the medical certificate given by Dr. Shankaram that Abdulla was suffering from cold and cough and was treated by him on 5th May 1962 as he had received reports from workmen: M. Ganga Reddy, Achuta Venkatayya, and Adam Saff that Abdulla had pre-planned on 4th May 1962 to go to erect pendal for the marriage of the daughter of the Secretary of the Union. But, it should be noted that Ganga Reddy has stated in his statement Ex. M12 that the following day on 5th May 1962 only three persons, viz., K. Polayya, C. Ragayya, and he himself went to the marriage. He did not say that Sheik Abdulla also went to the marriage. The statements of the other witnesses, Ex. M10, 12 and 17 are also silent on the fact that Abdulla went to the marriage and erected pendal. On the other hand, C. C. Subbaiah has deposed before me and stated in cross-examination that neither he invited Abdulla to marriage, nor, Abdulla was present at the marriage; that on the other hand while passing over the house of Dr. Shankaram he saw Abdulla there at the house of Dr. Shankaram. Thus, the ground on which the medical certificate was doubted is not proved from the statements of the aforesaid witnesses. It may kindly be noted that Sheik Abdulla was a muck muzdoor. A muck muzdoor has to lift heavy weights. It appears to me that any muck muzdoor who is suffering from cold and cough can legitimately ask for one day's casual leave and refusal to grant leave of one day for insufficient reasons was not reasonable. The request was of Sheik Abdulla whose record of service was without a blemish. I feel also that there was no sufficient reason for the belief that Dr. Shankaram, a registered medical practitioner, issued his certificate falsely. Nodoubt Sheik Abdulla disobeyed, but, the order in such circumstances does not appear to be reasonable and refusal to obey an unreasonable order, in my opinion, does not amount to any misconduct. I cannot uphold the dismissal of Sheik Abdulla for all the above reasons and when a dismissal cannot be upheld the proper order is of reinstatement. I, therefore, direct Sheik Abdulla to be reinstated from the date of his suspension on 9th August 1962 with continuity of service, but, with only 1/4th back wages. I hope that the employer will not feel this as the relation between the manager and the workmen were strained and happily the employer has transferred the manager because of his efficiency to some other place and a new manager has come in his place. With the advent of the new manager the relations, I hope, between the employer and the workmen, will improve.

Report accordingly to the Government this 9th day of July, 1962.
